

NEWEST PLAN IS TO CHOOSE AT PARTY CAUCUS

Allowing The Formality Of Election Of a U. S. Senator To Rest Until May 14, As Suggested By Attorney General.

MAGIC WORD GIVEN TO LENROOT?

He Is Hurrying To Madison After Long Distance Talk With La Follette--New Cigarette Bill Passed By Assembly Today.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Madison, Wis., March 14.—Senator Hudson today vigorously "called down" the administrative officers who disregard legislative appropriation limits and incur expenses for which the legislature has made no money available. He also opposed the bill to appropriate $1,556 to clerks who were kept on the state census by Secretary of State Howser after the $20,000 census appropriation had run out.

Cigarette Bill Passed
The assembly today passed the Domachowski bill to make smoking cigarettes by minors an offense and to punish any person who allows such smoking on his premises.

Lenroot to Announce Himself
Ex-Speaker Lenroot is coming this afternoon and will probably announce his candidacy tonight. This would make Lenroot, Esch, Stephenson and Hatten the present entries for election as successor to Senator Spooner with Connor and Davidson strong prospective candidates.

The Latest Proposal
The newest proposal is for Chairman Connor to call a republican caucus to make the nomination for the United States senate now so as to settle the question, and allow the formality of election to wait until May 14 as suggested by the attorney general.

Lenroot Hears and Hurries
Milwaukee, Wis., March 14.—Senator Spooner will not change the date of his resignation, says a Washington special to the Evening Wisconsin. Lenroot is on his way to Madison after a long distance talk to La Follette, with the magic word.

BADGER BASKET-BALL CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

Will Probably Be Played by Lawrence and Carroll College Teams in Milwaukee Saturday.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Appleton, Wis., March 14.—Negotiations are pending with Carroll college of Wausau, for a basketball game to be played in Milwaukee Saturday evening, March 16, with Lawrence university, champions of the northern colleges, to decide the basketball championship of Wisconsin for the season of 1907.

Lawrence and Carroll have played two games this season, each winning one. To settle the championship honors, the local institution is negotiating for a game with the Springfield College on neutral grounds. The students of both colleges are clamoring for this third and decisive game, and if Milwaukee gets the match, both will send large delegations of rooters with their teams.

There will be but eight entries in the annual basketball tournament for state high schools under the auspices of Lawrence university in this city in the week of April 4. Recent reports that because there were so many near-champions in the different sections of the state the management of the tournament would allow ten teams to compete is an error.

Lawrence university is preparing to give the high school students who are entered in the tournament a royal welcome. Last year's event was a great success, and a prominent factor in deciding the state championships. The plan of the university in arranging these tournaments has given the high schools of the state an even chance to prove their claims on the coveted honor.

ARRAY OF MEDICAL TESTIMONY GIVEN

Nine Doctors Subpoenaed in Case of Tate vs. St. Paul Railway Company.

Nine doctors have been subpoenaed to testify in the case of Tate versus the C. & St. P. railway company and this afternoon are being called to the witness stand. Those for the plaintiff are Dr. Mitchell of Broadhead and Drs. T. H. McCarthy, W. H. Palmer and James Gibson of this city. The physicians appearing for the defense are Dr. W. R. Head of Broadhead and Drs. J. F. Pember, E. F. Woods, F. B. Farnsworth and T. W. Nuzum of this city. The purpose of this expert testimony is to ascertain the extent of the injury for which Mr. Tate wants damages. The trial will be completed late today or early tomorrow and then be given to the jury, which consists of the following: F. Story, P. F. McGee, Watson Aldrich, William Howell, George Campbell, R. D. McMillen, Herbert Mosley, Will Crandall, O. P. Gardner, Andrew Schulz, H. Hunt, Henry McNamara.

The next case to come before the court is that of L. Warskowsky versus Louis Rosengarten and Samuel Rosengarten. The plaintiff is a wholesale junk dealer in Chicago and the defendants, junk buyers in Beloit. The complaint alleges that Warskowsky visited the Lino City and closed a deal for $800 worth of scrap iron to be shipped to Chicago, freight prepaid. He forwarded the money but claims never to have received all that he originally contracted for. The suit was tried by a jury before Justice Earle and a verdict of $182 given to the complainant. Mr. Rubin of Milwaukee, a Hebrew attorney, is here to appear for one of the litigants.

BRYAN WORKING ON HIS FENCES IN NEW ENGLAND

Will Lecture in Boston and Give Address Before Harvard Law Students.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Boston, Mass., March 14.—William Jennings Bryan arrived in Boston today to pay the first visit he has made to the city in several years. While the primary purpose of his visit is to fill a lecture engagement Mr. Bryan will take advantage of the opportunity offered to confer with a number of democratic leaders in regard to the political situation in New England at the present time and the outlook for the future. To this end George Fred Williams, probably the staunchest supporter of the Nebraskan in this section of the country, has arranged for a complimentary dinner in honor of Mr. Bryan tomorrow at which the most will be made of the occasion so far as Mr. Bryan's presidential prospects are concerned. All of the members of the democratic state committee have been invited to meet Mr. Bryan, together with such party leaders as Mayor Fitzgerald, the Hon. Richard Olney and others. It is doubtful how many of these will attend, but it is certain that the officers and leading workers of the New England Progressive Democratic league, of which Col. Alexander Troup of New Haven is president, will be on hand in full force.

During his stay in the city Mr. Bryan is a guest at the residence of George Fred Williams. Following his public lecture in Tremont Temple tonight Mr. Bryan will be hurriedly driven to Cambridge to deliver an address before the law class of Harvard university. He will leave for the west tomorrow evening, but will return later in the month for a tour of Vermont and New Hampshire.

The local arrangements for the reception and entertainment of the visitors are of the most perfect and elaborate character.

HAPPY REUNION OF MOTHER AND GIRLS

Children Have Not Seen Parent Since Being Taken in Orphan's Home Twenty Years Ago.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] North Vernon, Ind., March 14.—A mother and two daughters, who have been separated for twenty years, are looking forward to a happy reunion here tomorrow. On March 27, 1883, Nora and Lulu White, age respectively five and seven years, were placed in an orphan's home at Greensburg. Lulu was subsequently taken into the home of a Mrs. Ayres, living near St. Paul, and Nora was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. James Gnosé. The girls grew to womanhood and Lulu married M. R. Heron of Sharpville, while Nora became the wife of William Samson of this place. After leaving the orphan's home the children were never able to communicate with their mother. Recently Mr. Heron wrote to a friend in Greensburg, in an effort to reunite mother and children, and his letter was published in a local newspaper. This resulted in locating the mother and a reunion was arranged to be held at the Samson home here.

MOCK BOMBARDMENT OF NEWPORT IS AGITATED

Summer Conference Of Naval Officers Will Be Largely Attended And Interesting Maneuvers Are Wanted.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Newport, R. I., March 14.—Word has been received from Washington that the summer conference of the army and navy officers will convene at the Naval War college here on June 1, and the sessions will be continued daily until Oct. 1. Indications are that there will be an exceptionally large class of officers in attendance at this summer's conference, and that their ranks will range as high as rear admiral.

An effort is being made in army and naval circles to have Rear Admiral Evans, and his Atlantic fleet during the summer visit the New England coast and bombard, in mock battle, the coast defenses, as was done some years ago by Admiral Higginson, when he was in command of the North Atlantic fleet. If this is done, an interesting summer's work is in store for the ships and officers and men commanding the coast defenses along the coast from New York to Maine.

SUFFERING FROM FLOODS IS INCREASING HOURLY

Whole Town Swept Away In West Virginia Today--Three Ohioans Drowned Wading From Home To Dry Land.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Pittsburgh, Pa., March 14.—Pittsburgh is in the throes of one of its greatest floods. The record of ten years has already been passed and the river is still rising. It is estimated today that the loss from the closing down of manufacturing plants alone would exceed half a million dollars. The damage to property from high water would be as much more. Nine deaths are attributed to the flood so far.

Traffic Affected
By eleven o'clock the flood had reached Pennsylvania avenue and Sixth street in the city. The lowlands of the Allegheny and the south side are submerged. Every mill and factory on the banks of the Monongahela and Allegheny rivers have suspended operations. Traffic on all railroads entering Pittsburgh is seriously affected.

Drownings at Zanesville
Zanesville, Ohio, March 14.—Three Hungarians were drowned as a result of the flooded condition this morning while attempting to wade from their house to dry land. The flood conditions in the Muskingum valley are unprecedented and growing worse every hour. With one exception every railroad entering the city is tied up.

CLOTHES AND SHELLS LEFT

Brownsville Citizens Might Have Picked Up Supplies.

Important Testimony Given by Quartermaster Sergeant—Police Were Dressed in Khaki Cloth.

Washington, March 14.—When the Twenty-sixth infantry was transferred from Brownsville to make room for the negro soldiers of the Twenty-fifth infantry, the white soldiers left behind many suits of cast-off khaki uniform and shells, cartridges and bandoliers lying about loose in store houses and barracks.

This important testimony was given Wednesday before the senate committee on military affairs by Rowland Osborne, the white post quartermaster sergeant at Fort Brown during the occupation of the fort by both the Twenty-sixth and the Twenty-fifth infantry. He did nothing concerning the loose ammunition and clothing except to take 40 rounds of Krag-Jorgensen cartridges, which he still has at Fort Sam Houston, Tex. His recollection was that all of the ammunition which he saw at Fort Brown after the departure of the Twenty-sixth was Krag-Jorgensen ammunition, but he would not state positively that there were no Springfield cartridges left behind.

The clothing was found principally in the barracks and he thought there must have been about ten suits of khaki left by each of three companies. He could not say whether this property had later been picked up and turned back to the government, whether it had been taken by citizens or was still there when the Twenty-fifth infantry arrived.

Lieutenant Edwin P. Thompson, of the Twenty-sixth infantry, preceded Osborne on the stand, resuming his testimony as to conditions at Brownsville prior to the act of the negro soldiers. He again told of hearing of remarks derogatory to negro soldiers and gave a number of instances of hearing threats of violence against the negroes.

Concerning the appearance of the police of Brownsville, Lieut. Thompson said that in the summer of 1906 the uniforms were changed from blue to khaki cloth and, from the rear it would be difficult to tell a policeman from a soldier.

San Francisco, March 14.—The San Francisco board of education Wednesday adopted resolutions agreed upon at the conference with President Roosevelt at Washington, rescinding their action in segregating Japanese pupils in the public schools. OBJECTION FUTILE; ABE HAD ANSWERED

Delmas Failed to Prevent Him from Saying That Evelyn Had Told Him Thaw Knew Her Story False.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] New York, March 14.—When the Thaw trial opened this morning Abraham Hummel was recalled to the stand. After Defending Attorney Delmas had submitted an argument why Hummel's testimony should not be admitted, Justice Fitzgerald sustained Delmas' objection to its admission. District Attorney Jerome again asked Hummel if Evelyn Nesbit had told him that she had told Thaw it was not true that White had drugged and ruined her, and before Delmas could object the witness replied quickly: "She certainly did." After some heated words Delmas said: "The question and answer are in; let them stand."

Jerome this afternoon swore six experts—Flint, Hirsch, Mahon, Dieffenendorff, Pritchard and Ferris. He omitted Hamilton MacDonald. The hypothetical question which Jerome put to the experts asks them to base opinions as to Thaw's sanity. The question covers practically all of the evidence in the case and contains about fifteen thousand words.

KNEW TOO MUCH;
WAS PERSECUTEDPHONOGRAPH MAN TELLS STORY
OF RAILROAD'S "METHODS."

PURSUED BY HIRED THUGS

Friend of Howe Brothers Says He Was Thrown Into Insane Hospital at Order of Southern Pacific.

James M. Boyd, who is here from Chicago representing the Columbia Phonograph company, has a story which in its details of injustice done by big corporations rivals Ida M. Tarbell's History of the Standard Oil, the raking of Ray Stannard Baker or the developments of any trust investigation. He tells of the Standard's methods of freeing out competitors, calls oil inspection a political graft, refers to Southern Pacific Railway detectives as hired thugs and terms various officials of California creatures of the same railroad company. He makes some bitter attacks as he relates his personal experiences which are not outside of the so-called socialistic outcries of the day. He is now engaged in the preparation of a damage suit against the Southern Pacific and the following tale is in substance the same as he related in a sworn statement before Attorney Charles B. Morrison of Chicago who is in the employ of the United States government, gathering information concerning the operations of the Standard Oil company and other alleged trusts. Mr. Boyd's case has been set before the national department of justice and numbered 46,330, he having secured action through a personal letter to President Roosevelt.

Early Operations of Standard Oil.
I had my first experience in the oil business in 1881," says Mr. Boyd. "At that time I entered the employ of Clark, Childs & Co., oil refiners at Cleveland, going into the shipping department at the refinery. This concern was in a combine independent of the Standard and one of the members of the firm, James H. Clark, was the original partner of John D. Rockefeller. During the following year I went to the Globe Oil company in the same city, taking charge of their warehouse. This concern compounded and manufactured oil and while in their service I originated the 'Diamond Black Harpess Oil.' The Globe people transferred me to Minneapolis in 1883, giving me charge of their office there. At that time I became intimately acquainted with the Howe boys who are now numbered among your leading citizens. All three, Tom, Fred, and Frank, traveled for the Globe in '83 and '84. The company opened a branch in Grand Rapids, Mich., in 1884 and put me at the head of the agency. There I had my first experience with trust tactics. The Standard, which was known in the wolverine state as the West Michigan Oil company, reduced the price of oil at Grand Rapids and in the immediate vicinity, in fact sold it at a price below the cost of refining, despite the fact that the market price was maintained in all other parts of the country. Our branch was eventually frozen out and we were compelled to sell to the Standard. On the day following the sale the wholesale price of kerosene oil at Grand Rapids was advanced three cents per gallon.

How Standard Restrained Trade.
"In 1886 I secured a position in the lubricating department of Clark Bros., of Cincinnati, successors to the old Clark, Childs & Co. In the meantime the Globe of Minnesota had been incorporated before the Standard had secured a controlling interest in the new company. Then the Standard began restraining trade in Minnesota and set about to drive the Clark brothers from that state. Through the Minnesota oil inspector, a complaint was lodged against the Clark oil and I was sent to ferret out the cause. Four days after arriving in Minneapolis I found that the Standard people, Without Pain or Operation.

TRIAL PACKAGE MAILED FREE.
The result of an irritated membrane cannot be cured with a knife, but by removing the cause of the irritation.

What is a more natural cure than a strong and yet healing balm which will bring life back to the deadened tissues? This is the action of the Pyramid Pile Cure. The little suppositories melt away into the feverish membrane, heal the ulcers, remove the inflammation and swelling and bring back the rectum to its normal condition.

This result is effected painlessly and without the loss of a moment's time from your daily duties. The treatment is applied at home, in the privacy of your own room. The remedy is our own preparation and our name is the guarantee of its genuineness. Thousands of cases similar to the following might be cited to prove our claims.

"I tried the sample of your cure you sent to me. I used it and then bought a 50 cent box. The results were immediate and surprising to me. I assure you I had been to a dozen of the best doctors and paid much money to them with no results whatever. I had this affliction for 20 years. I was in a hospital for a long time, and left it physically broken down. I owe you a debt of gratitude. I believe that piles would be banished from humanity and become an unknown thing, were every one afflicted with them to but spend from 50c to $1.00 for Pyramid Pile Cure. Its speedy action also makes it extremely favorable for impatient people. I am yours sincerely, George H. Bartlett, Mattapan, Mass."

with whom we were jointly filling tanks, were purposely sneaking in below-grade oil and we were getting the blame. I took a sample of our oil before the state inspector and he was then and there forced to admit that he had never learned the process of inspection. He was drawing a salary of $18,000 and paying two men $75 per month to do his work. His total expenses were about $3,000 a year and he was pocketing $3,000.

"Having seen what the independent oil men were up against I grasped an opportunity to go into the business of manufacturing and jobbing furniture in Minneapolis. In that work I continued until 1902 when my health failed and in August, 1903, I went to California.

Saw Value of California Oil.
"While sojourning in California the oil wells, refineries and manufacturing naturally attracted my attention. I visited Martinez, where John Bragg of Cleveland was building a refinery for an independent company of San Francisco men and Stockton where the Tseia Coal company had a manufacturing plant. I secured samples of crude oil and by analyzing these found that the California oil could be made into various products. Early in November, 1904, I wrote a communication to the San Francisco Chronicle, disclosing my discoveries. All the papers noticed this letter and on November 23 the Chronicle contained an editorial endorsing my suggestion that a state commission be created, to investigate further the value and possibilities of the product.

Railroad in the Arena.
"But a new factor, one which neither I nor the Chronicle writer had figured on, entered the arena. It was the Southern Pacific Railway company. The managers of this corporation saw that the price of crude oil, which they were using as fuel on their engines, would be raised, should a commission of practical men demonstrate the true value of the oil. As the stockholders of the Southern Pacific own a controlling interest in the Chronicle no more articles on oil appeared in that paper. I had found that California oil is worth a dollar a barrel and within the next three months the Southern Pacific closed one 4,000,000 barrel contract at eighteen cents a barrel. The killing of the commission saved them about $3,000,000, just on one deal!"

Persecuted by Railroad.
"Thus I was temporarily forced to drop my campaign for an oil commission. I had a good claim for damages against the Southern Pacific and in February, 1905, while I was at the New American hotel, Howard street, San Francisco, I wrote to a claim agent of that road. I was recognized as the one who had suggested the commission that nearly proved expensive to the company and two of their hired thugs, who call themselves detectives, visited me on the evening of February 21. They requested me to visit Mr. Montgomery, an officer of the Southern Pacific and I informed them that Mr. Montgomery could visit me if he wished an interview. On my refusal the two grabbed me and hustled me to the southern police station. (It should be called the Southern Pacific's police station.) I was searched, my private papers were taken from me and the key to my room stolen and I firmly believe my papers and personal belongings were thoroughly gone over there. The detectives had hoped to find a revolver about me and would then bring a charge of carrying concealed weapons. Such a hope was dashed and the charge of insanity was preferred, my accusers claiming I had written a threatening letter to the Southern Pacific.

In Cell, Vile With Vermin.
"I was taken to the central emergency hospital and thrown into a cell, vile with vermin. All my clothes, but an undershirt, were taken from me and all day of the twenty-second, I lay on a miserable bed of hay chinking my head with pneumonia. Simpson, the city editor of the Chronicle, was my only visitor and his paper appeared with a small paragraph to the effect that I had been picked up in a cheap lodging house and was friendless. On the twenty-third I was examined to ascertain my sanity. I was not taken into court, a judge, the prosecuting witnesses and the doctors came to me but kept a respectful distance for one of the detectives warned them that I was a dangerous man. I sought to have my case transferred to Antioch, the county seat of Contra Costa county, where I was a registered citizen. Then asked to be allowed some witnesses and at the ruling of the judge furnished two deputy sheriffs with the names of eight men, all of whom could have been easily found. The officers returned, claiming that my friends were purely imaginary. Then to prove me friendless I was held in this so-called hospital for seven days. For four days I was not given a chance to exercise, at no time was I furnished water to wash with and the food was as follows: breakfast, bread and coffee; dinner, soup and bread; supper, tea and bread.

Made Into a Lunatic.
"At the end of the week, when I was emancipated and suffering from pneumonia, I was transferred to the state asylum at Mendocino, three miles from Ukiah, with purpose to remove the vermin which I had collected at the emergency pen I was shaved everywhere but on my face. Then I was dressed in a state suit and I certainly appeared the part of a raving lunatic. On the second day a doctor visited me and we fooled those Southern Pacific thugs—I pulled through. One of the first things the superintendent asked me was: 'Do you think you are being persecuted?' I didn't answer in the affirmative, I simply stated my case. Through him I got in communication with influential friends at Antioch, one of whom was a member of the state board of control. As a result I was transferred to the United States government ward, where Oscar Diggs, of Iowa, the man who accompanied Hobson on his Martinique expedition into the mouth of Santiago harbor and later went insane, was confined. On June 25 I was discharged and my writ of freedom stated that I would not injure my own health or endanger the public welfare. A supervisor of the institution accompanied me to Minnesota and I was out of the clutches of the Southern Pacific. Now I'm pushing my case."

LAST WEEK'S WHEAT
ADVANCE EXPLAINED

Reported Ravages of the "Green Bug" in Texas, Oklahoma, and Indian Territory Responsible.

New York, March 13.—During the past week the wheat market has experienced marked fluctuations, the feature of which has been the placing of the nearby positions at a depressed premium over later options. This has been caused by the leading local interests buying freely in only March and May, and while they have absorbed large quantities, the premiums thus paid have been an inducement to holders of actual coffee to dispose of their stocks and replace in later months, which has caused differences to narrow toward the close. The reaction from the extreme advance has caused many belated longs to liquidate, giving the market a heavy tendency.

Grain.
Wheat.—The grain markets have begun to worry over the situation of the final outcome of the crops. Prices of wheat advanced sharply last week as the result of reports from Texas, Oklahoma and Indian Territory that the wheat crops in those districts were suffering from the ravages of "Green Bugs." Bullish rumors had it that the Texas crop was threatened, and would move on to other important producing sections. The foreign markets have been a factor in the advance. A local authority said the edge was off the export market for the moment. Broome's estimate of the world's shipments of 10,000,000 bushels against actual shipments of 14,920,000 bushels. We expect all sorts of damage stories at this time and later on to the new crop. In this event prices will be pushed up accordingly. We think it safer to take the long side on the declines than the short side on the advances.

Cotton.
The highest prices of cotton on the present advance were recorded on Friday, when the May and July options went well above 10c. There has been some little outside business, but not enough to warrant a broader, active speculation. The liquidation in progress in the stock market has undoubtedly tended to restrict extended operations in cotton, and the advance in futures has given many an opportunity to realize on their holdings of cotton in order to protect their interests in stocks. This was evident on Friday afternoon and Saturday, when prices became easier on selling of professionals and Wall street commission houses, the declines extending from 16 to 18 points from the high point Friday. We do not look for much of an advance until financial conditions become easier. Would advise conservatism, taking on cotton only on further declines, for we believe that cotton will rule higher during the spring months. The real foundation for the strength of cotton is the demand for spots and the strength of the cloth market. In the milling trade the demand is unprecedented both in Europe and America. Spinners' takings of American cotton for the week were placed at 323,703 bales, compared with 253,855 for the corresponding week last year. To date the takings have been 7,560,562 bales, compared with 6,900,428 for the same period last season. At the same time the last sight movement keeps up, and is a surprise to the bullish element, who have strenuously predicted a perpendicular drop in the figures to come at any moment. The into sight for the week totaled 214,185 bales, against 158,556 bales for the corresponding week last year, bringing the total for this season thus far to 11,113,393 bales, against 8,771,819 bales up to the corresponding period last year. The coming Ginners' report will show in the opinion of many the ultimate crop, for reports from all parts of the south indicate little cotton in farmers' hands that is good merchantable stuff.

In conclusion, we see before us a continued demand with a limited amount of cotton unmarketed to draw from. At the same time we see spots attaining higher prices as the spring advances.

..Forty Years Ago..

"Janesville Daily Gazette, Thursday, March 14, 1867.—Cold Snap.—We think it would trouble the 'oldest inhabitant' to call to mind a colder day in March than that through which we are just passing. We yesterday gave the temperature at 2 degrees below zero; but we learn that at some points in the city the thermometer indicated 6 below zero. Last night seemed the coldest of the season and this morning the thermometer indicated 10 below! And this is 'balmy spring.' Whew!

Sale of Valuable Property at Auction.—It appears from notices that the site of the Hyatt House is to be sold at auction on Tuesday of next week. Not, we understand, all in a lump, but it has been separated and is to be disposed of in separate lots, to suit purchasers. We are glad this property is to be sold, as in the event, it will undoubtedly be improved in various ways, and thus relieve the locality of the bare and forlorn look it now has.

The New Grading Streets is Managed in the Third Ward.—The grade of Bluff street from South Third to Racine was established some time ago. On the 20th of September, 1865, a contract was made to have the street graded according to the grade as established and a considerable portion of the work and the contract had been done. On the 21st of January, a petition signed by half a dozen persons was presented to the common council and referred to the alderman of the third ward. It is said that the alderman have gone on and directed a change to be made in the grade, ordering more cut in one place, more filling in another, etc., as to them seemed good.

What right have the aldermen of the third ward to change a grade of contract and require persons residing on the street to foot the bill? If the contractor acts upon the suggestion of the aldermen instead of being entitled to any pay for his work he and the aldermen will be liable to any person whose lot is injured by any filling or cutting which is not provided for by the established grade and the contract.

STRAIGHT WORK.

Before The Footlights.

"On the Bridge at Midnight" at the Myers' theatre, Saturday, March 16, matinee and evening.

In refreshing contrast with the cheaply sensational claptrap of some plays of alleged heart interest is "On the Bridge at Midnight," a comedy drama which will be seen here in the near future. The story is the frank, honest and natural narration in play form of the search of a blind mother for her stolen child and her experiences, exciting and sometimes tinged with pathetic humor, grip the attention of the audience from start to finish. It is moreover a whole some story and there are few characters on the stage that have won wider popularity than Germany and Reddy. The scenery is remarkable and of course reaches a climax in the setting that gives the play its name, showing with faithfulness in detail, the huge lift bridge over the Chicago river, scenes along that city's hidden stream, and a steamer passing through the draw. The company is far above the average.

Jeane Towler, the beautiful tall and aristocratic appearing young woman who plays the character of "Mrs. Nickerbacker" in Klaw & Wagner's production of "The Ham Tree," in which they are starring McIntyre and Heath, made her stage debut under the management of Augustin Daly in musical comedies—"The Geisha," "The Circus Girl" and "The Runaway Girl." She then played in dramas as leading woman at the Proctor houses. She was later leading woman for Weedon Grossmith during his American tour and was featured one season in the title role of Piner's "Iris" following Virginia Harned. McIntyre and Heath in "The Ham Tree" will be the attraction at the Myers theatre Friday, March 22.

Thenson will have charge of their farm the present year. Chris Zichert purchased a colt at Cleveland, N. C. sale. Mrs. Kelsey has a sick horse. Jake Gester moved from the Storey farm to Ed Rice's farm and Mr. and Mrs. Capman have moved near Shopiere, last of the week.

HANOVER.

Hanover, March 14.—Next Sunday, the 17th, Rev. D. V. Nussbaum will conduct an examination of the catechisms of the confirmation class, at the morning service, in Trinity Lutheran church. There will be English services in the evening at 7:30.

Mrs. A. P. Pierce is a Chicago visitor this week.

The occasion was his sixtieth birthday anniversary and to say that things went merry would be just putting it about right. The evening was spent in social converse, a bountiful supper was served, speeches were made and before departing Mr. Coldren was presented with a clock as a memento of the occasion. It was indeed a happy affair and one which Comrade Coldren will long cherish in memory.

Mrs. O. H. Kittelson is numbered among those who are sick this week.

Mrs. Wm. Cobb and sister, Miss Brooks, are in Belmont the guest of their sister, Mrs. Alexander.

Miss Mabel Charlton is here from Janesville the guest of Miss Florence Young.

Miss Grace Jones who has been attending the Monroe Business college, was here over Sunday with her parents.

Dr. Willis has been enjoying a visit from his nephew, Mr. James C. Willis, of Mifflin, lately.

Prof. and Mrs. E. W. Waite, were summoned to Menomonee Monday by the death of Mr. Waite's brother.

South Spring Valley, March 13.—Mrs. Carl Anderson was laid at rest Sunday in the cemetery of the West Lutheran church.

Ole Hoff went to Beloit Monday on business.

Hans Foslin called on Joe Dicky Monday.

James Fitch and Nelson Olin called on John Richmond Tuesday.

Albert Keesey will work his mother's farm this year.

Nelson Olin spent Sunday with friends in Brodhead.

Mrs. Belle Benjamin and children called on John Hegg Saturday.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Generally fair tonight and Friday; rising temperature.

RESULTS OF DOLLAR DEPRECIATION

In an article in the Political Science Quarterly, Mr. Ernest Howard presents a suggestive view of the effect of gold production upon prices. Recent experience, he says, shows clearly how much has profited from the rising prices resulting from the big gold output. There has been gain in the greater certainty and steadiness of employment, although Mr. Howard holds that wages as a rule have not kept pace with wholesale prices. The farmers and the manufacturers have undoubtedly benefited from the increased profit growing out of rising prices. But Mr. Howard believes that the largest rewards of dollar depreciation and price inflation have not gone to these producing classes, but rather to "the speculator, the promoter, and the industrial undertaker" who have "fairly rioted in the immense profits lying between a fixed return for borrowed capital and advancing prices for the product." He concludes, therefore, that currency inflation instead of being a corrective of tendencies towards concentration of wealth as a matter of fact contributes mightily towards such concentration.

There are a good many facts that could be cited in support of Mr. Howard's contention. It may fairly be asked, however, whether the economic forces which go to check these tendencies have not already begun to work. The inflation resulting from dollar depreciation inevitably reaches a point where it reacts upon itself, and it remains to be seen whether such reaction may not strike harder "at the speculator, the promoter and the industrial undertaker" than at the producing classes.

THEORY AND PRACTICE

Theory and practice are more often held in antithesis to each other than any two other extremes of our everyday life. Some sneer at one and with a sense of serenity bow to the other. Practice is everything to them. It is a God before whom they bow and pay homage. Theory is nothing but an absurdity. It is merely a playing of the thinker of no practical use to mankind.

But such have not conceived truly of the fact. A theory is a statement of a working proposition according to which practice is guided. The man who knowingly or unknowingly has no theory of the undertaking for which he is responsible, is simply a haphazard worker whose labor is about as valuable as that of standing up, bricks and knocking them down again. Theory states the principle along which practice has to work its way to realize the ends in view. It insists that in order that anything may be done well, or done so as to be worth while, there must be a thinking out beforehand of the ways and the means and the ends to be sought.

The man who sits down and counts the cost of building a house is a theorist, as much as the engineer who figures out from the mere theory of mathematics how to construct a bridge. He who builds without theory is likely to have things fall down over his head. Therefore it is wise not to kick theory out of the back door but to take it in by the front door and confer with it in counsel so that it may guide you and keep you from making many of the costliest mistakes. There are sound and unsound theories of things. Sound theory pays because it is thinking on right lines. Unsound theory has not thought out its problems, and is to that extent wrong because it leads practice astray.

THE AWFUL BUGBEAR

One of the greatest bugbears of today's existence is the croaker who is always predicting a great crash in financial circles and a return to the hard times of Ninety-Three. Free Trade and Free Silver were crazes that swept over the country and were fought out as issues in national campaigns. Now comes the attack upon the railroads and the great corporations showing a tendency to unrest. This, however, should not be taken to denote that a financial crisis is about to come.

If the steel industry be any sort of an index to the future, the country may look a good way ahead without being anxious about its prosperity. It is figured that seven leading steel companies have on their books orders to be filled aggregating 12,000,000 tons. This means that the mining of ore must go on, it must be hauled to the furnaces, it must there be smelted, it must then be distributed in the form of pig iron and be converted into the products which are represented in this demand.

But this is not the end of the story. Such a supply as this takes many different forms in productive processes after it leaves the steel mills. From the iron which the blacksmith requires to the watch spring which the jeweler buys are countless stages of refinement of product, all accompanied by a steady and rapid increase in value, representing skill, labor and materials. From the ore bed to the watch spring there is a range of activities which keeps thousands of people occupied in the mechanism of industry.

What a wide difference between this productive process and that of the not very distant age when iron's main use was for implements of warfare and its place in the productive arts was almost unknown.

Roosevelt still hears that we small voices calling for him to run again. Like the bells of London which called to Dick Wittington to turn back this small voice is pleading with him to reconsider his decision not to run.

Whitehead's name is again mentioned as a man who could fill John C. Spooner's shoes in the United States Senate. He certainly has the ability, but his political enemies would never permit his name to be more than mentioned.

Senator Spooner's determination to withdraw from the Senate has caused a lot more trouble in Madison than was anticipated. To think that a bitter enemy could cause the reformers so much annoyance is laughable.

The fifth and second wards were originally the scenes of the seismic political upheavals, but the situation in the third ward has now become very interesting as well.

The question of the renomination of Davidson is a long ways off and perhaps instead of running for the Governorship he may aspire to something higher.

The Chicago papers are pointing out to Mayor Dunne the existence of gambling joints in their dear city, with a remarkable frequency of late.

Constructive legislation, not destructive, appears to be the object of the assemblymen and Senators who are in Madison this winter.

If the Wisconsin legislature make no mistakes within ten years the state will have as fine a state capitol building as any in the union.

Hudnall has withdrawn from the senatorial fight so as to give his friend Leinroot a clear field in the northern part of the state.

Once more the voter is informed that there is no splitting of tickets at the primary election next Tuesday.

Janesville will watch with interest the selection of the aldermanic candidates next Tuesday.

The spring breezes blow the campaign banners in Chicago and Janesville.

PRESS COMMENT

Some Have That Beaten.

Rockford Register-Gazette: A good many boarding-house keepers, too, are in favor of two cent fare.

This Eliot's Becoming a Nuisance.

Exchange: President Eliot says that "football is not a fit game for gentlemen." Back to croquet!

Trying to Dissuade Him.

Exchange: Dowle's dying threat to return may have prompted some of those uncharitable obituaries.

Jim Has No Sense of Humor.

Milwaukee Sentinel: Actor Corbett rather overlooks his real asset when he asks people to forget that he was ever a pugilist.

Nothing More.

Racine Journal: We hear Senator La Follette is to take no part in the great contest. But this is all in the hear, nothing more.

Verification.

Exchange: Come to think about it we believe we have met some men whose souls did not weigh more than half an ounce.

The New Jap Sleeves.

Chicago News: Word comes direct from Paris that Japanese sleeves are the latest for women. That, then, will be about all for the elbow gloves.

What's Golden Carp?

Chicago Tribune: They are catching golden carp down along the south shore. If the golden carp is any improvement on the greedy, piratical monopolist known as the German carp it is welcome.

No Time Lost.

Exchange: An able dentist testified in court yesterday that his time is worth 10 cents a minute. That is even more than a plumber charges for his time, but then a dentist does not have to go back to the shop for his tools.

Better Than Insanity Plea.

Exchange: Those lawyers for Will J. Davis who established the portion of the ordinance on which their client was arrested as void, have invented a move which has the national insanity plea backed on the boards.

Ominous Silence on Subject.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: Senator La Follette has recovered from his recent illness sufficiently to begin his lecture tour, but there is no announcement yet as to when he proposes to make his formal appearance in the contest now being waged at Madison.

Just Thirsts For Battle.

Milwaukee Journal: Just now there are a good many crocodile tears being shed over Senator Spooner. The way to test their sincerity would be to see which one, Spooner or La Follette, can get Wisconsin's backing for the presidential nomination next year.

Jenkins Courting the Whirlwind.

Exchange: Congressman Jenkins of the Eleventh district is to have a hard time of it if the women of Wisconsin unite to oppose him because of his attitude toward their suffrage movement. Political opponents for office will pale into insignificance in the sight of Jenkins should the fair sex become active as his sworn enemy.

Old War to be Renewed.

Green Bay Gazette: If, as is being freely predicted, La Follette throws Uncle Sam over Wisconsin may again come back to the old days when the word harmony wasn't in a Badger republican's vocabulary. All senatorial aspirants are girding their loins for a conflict in which they apparently expect to stir up something.

Seem Defiant No Longer.

Chicago Chronicle: The spectacle of J. P. Morgan arranging with President Roosevelt for an interview between the latter and the heads of a number of great railroad systems to see what can be done to protect the railroads against hostile and unreasonable legislation by states is an interesting one. It shows, for one thing, that the present attitude of the railroads is not defiant. It also shows that they place a remarkable estimate upon the influence of the president over the states. Not very long ago such a thing as an appeal to the president to exercise his influence with the states would not have been thought of. This seems to indicate that some people are taking a new view of the relation between states and the nation.

Dowie

New York Tribune: Dowie is dead. When the end came no chariot, or fire appeared to whirl the new Elijah into heaven. Even his mantle failed to slip classically from his shoulders and fall upon an Elisha, for the mantle of the poor old madman and faker had long since been torn from him by disillusioned disciples. He died surrounded by a mere handful of believers, an object of pity and amusement to the great world which he vainly tried to rule.

A Public Disappointment.

Fond du Lac Bulletin: The refusal of the railroad companies to accept the recommendation of the railroad commission that the 500 mile family mileage books at 2 cents a mile be made interchangeable will be a great disappointment to the public. The alacrity with which the companies announced that they would comply with the order of the commission reducing the general rates to 2 1/2 cents a mile was taken to mean that the recommendation for interchangeable mileage books would also be accepted. It seems, however, that the companies decided from the start to give to the people only half the relief suggested by the order and recommendation of the railroad commission.

Predicts Stephenson: Prefers Hatten

Appleton Post: There is the remembrance of the service he has rendered the party long before it was rent by factionalism. This latter consideration, indeed, constitutes some element of strength for the Marinette man generally. All things considered, therefore, his election for the short space of two years would doubtless be acquiesced in by the majority of republicans with reasonable cheerfulness. If no other reason is a means of enabling them to "catch their breath" for the more important work of determining who shall be the successor of Senator Spooner for one or more full terms. A wiser achievement than the foregoing, however, would, in our opinion, be the election of a man at once who is well fitted, respecting experience, ability, temperament and character, to represent from the start to the finish of his career this state in the United States senate—such a man as W. H. Hatten. But it is not always possible to do the wisest thing at the right time and we fear the present is one of these occasions.

One Way to Collect.

What a lovely collection of odd cups," exclaimed a guest, peering into the china cabinet. "Did it take you long to get so many?" "Oh, no," said the hostess, "these are samples of the sets we have had in the last two years."

Childhood's Training.

A happy childhood is one of the best gifts that parents have it in their power to bestow, second only to implanting the habit of obedience which puts the child in training for the habit of obeying himself later on.—Mary Cholmondeley.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Made from Pure Grape Cream of Tartar

The only excuse for buying anything but a Pure Grape Cream of Tartar Baking Powder is to save a few cents in price.

ROYAL costs you a few cents more per can than Alum or Phosphate of Lime powders, but it is worth far more than the difference to keep your biscuits, cakes and pastry free from the injurious effects of these cheapening substitutes.

Continued use of Alum means permanent injury to health.

"TAINTED MONEY" A MYTH.

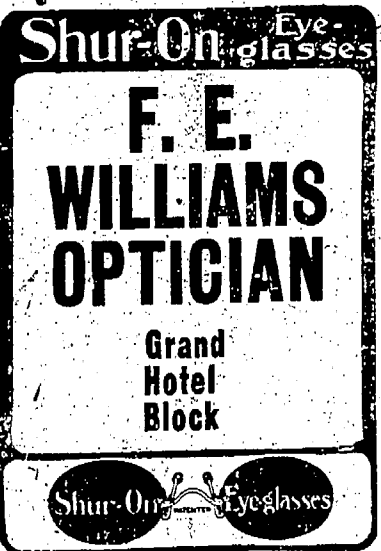

University President Says There is No Such Thing.

Washington, March 14.—"There is no such thing as tainted money," declared Dr. Charles W. Needham, president of George Washington university, in an address before the students of that institution Wednesday.

"Human conduct in acquiring money does not attach to or mix in the coin, nor lessen nor weaken the promise to pay upon the bank note. There is no such thing as 'tainted money.' Good moral money—that is, coin of full weight and live promises to pay—good coin, is good anywhere, in any man's hand. Truth takes no passing shadow, to itself, and money cannot become impregnated by the deeds of passing users. Having this view of good money, I will accept it from any man who owns it."

Chicago News: Word comes direct from Paris that Japanese sleeves are the latest for women. That, then, will be about all for the elbow gloves.

What's Golden Carp?

Chicago Tribune: They are catching golden carp down along the south shore. If the golden carp is any improvement on the greedy, piratical monopolist known as the German carp it is welcome.

No Time Lost.

Exchange: An able dentist testified in court yesterday that his time is worth 10 cents a minute. That is even more than a plumber charges for his time, but then a dentist does not have to go back to the shop for his tools.

Better Than Insanity Plea.

Exchange: Those lawyers for Will J. Davis who established the portion of the ordinance on which their client was arrested as void, have invented a move which has the national insanity plea backed on the boards.

Ominous Silence on Subject.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: Senator La Follette has recovered from his recent illness sufficiently to begin his lecture tour, but there is no announcement yet as to when he proposes to make his formal appearance in the contest now being waged at Madison.

Just Thirsts For Battle.

Milwaukee Journal: Just now there are a good many crocodile tears being shed over Senator Spooner. The way to test their sincerity would be to see which one, Spooner or La Follette, can get Wisconsin's backing for the presidential nomination next year.

Jenkins Courting the Whirlwind.

Exchange: Congressman Jenkins of the Eleventh district is to have a hard time of it if the women of Wisconsin unite to oppose him because of his attitude toward their suffrage movement. Political opponents for office will pale into insignificance in the sight of Jenkins should the fair sex become active as his sworn enemy.

Old War to be Renewed.

Green Bay Gazette: If, as is being freely predicted, La Follette throws Uncle Sam over Wisconsin may again come back to the old days when the word harmony wasn't in a Badger republican's vocabulary. All senatorial aspirants are girding their loins for a conflict in which they apparently expect to stir up something.

Seem Defiant No Longer.

Chicago Chronicle: The spectacle of J. P. Morgan arranging with President Roosevelt for an interview between the latter and the heads of a number of great railroad systems to see what can be done to protect the railroads against hostile and unreasonable legislation by states is an interesting one. It shows, for one thing, that the present attitude of the railroads is not defiant. It also shows that they place a remarkable estimate upon the influence of the president over the states. Not very long ago such a thing as an appeal to the president to exercise his influence with the states would not have been thought of. This seems to indicate that some people are taking a new view of the relation between states and the nation.

Dowie

New York Tribune: Dowie is dead. When the end came no chariot, or fire appeared to whirl the new Elijah into heaven. Even his mantle failed to slip classically from his shoulders and fall upon an Elisha, for the mantle of the poor old madman and faker had long since been torn from him by disillusioned disciples. He died surrounded by a mere handful of believers, an object of pity and amusement to the great world which he vainly tried to rule.

A Public Disappointment.

Fond du Lac Bulletin: The refusal of the railroad companies to accept the recommendation of the railroad commission that the 500 mile family mileage books at 2 cents a mile be made interchangeable will be a great disappointment to the public. The alacrity with which the companies announced that they would comply with the order of the commission reducing the general rates to 2 1/2 cents a mile was taken to mean that the recommendation for interchangeable mileage books would also be accepted. It seems, however, that the companies decided from the start to give to the people only half the relief suggested by the order and recommendation of the railroad commission.

Predicts Stephenson: Prefers Hatten

Appleton Post: There is the remembrance of the service he has rendered the party long before it was rent by factionalism. This latter consideration, indeed, constitutes some element of strength for the Marinette man generally. All things considered, therefore, his election for the short space of two years would doubtless be acquiesced in by the majority of republicans with reasonable cheerfulness. If no other reason is a means of enabling them to "catch their breath" for the more important work of determining who shall be the successor of Senator Spooner for one or more full terms. A wiser achievement than the foregoing, however, would, in our opinion, be the election of a man at once who is well fitted, respecting experience, ability, temperament and character, to represent from the start to the finish of his career this state in the United States senate—such a man as W. H. Hatten. But it is not always possible to do the wisest thing at the right time and we fear the present is one of these occasions.

One Way to Collect.

What a lovely collection of odd cups," exclaimed a guest, peering into the china cabinet. "Did it take you long to get so many?" "Oh, no," said the hostess, "these are samples of the sets we have had in the last two years."

Childhood's Training.

"TAINTED MONEY" A MYTH.

University President Says There is No Such Thing.

Washington, March 14.—"There is no such thing as tainted money," declared Dr. Charles W. Needham, president of George Washington university, in an address before the students of that institution Wednesday.

"Human conduct in acquiring money does not attach to or mix in the coin, nor lessen nor weaken the promise to pay upon the bank note. There is no such thing as 'tainted money.' Good moral money—that is, coin of full weight and live promises to pay—good coin, is good anywhere, in any man's hand. Truth takes no passing shadow, to itself, and money cannot become impregnated by the deeds of passing users. Having this view of good money, I will accept it from any man who owns it."

Dr. Richards' Dental Idea

To give my customers a little better work at a little lower price, than they can possibly get it else where.

To be satisfied with small gains and strive harder to please than my competitors.

To treat every customer justly and honestly.

The only profitable transaction is the "square deal."

No business can be permanent unless it is built on the ground of fair dealing.

We would rather be called honest than rich and we would rather be honest than be King.

Honesty, Skill, Reliability, and Application form the only four cornerstones upon which can be built the superstructure of success, financially or otherwise.

I give my patients, for $5, the very same crown that others charge $10 for.

That's why, for one reason, that my business grows every day.

I endeavor to do you Painless work, and that's another reason that my business is on the increase.

BUSY BURGLAR WITH US AGAIN

PANTRY WINDOW WAS FORCED AT A. J. HARWOOD'S HOME.

KING'S PHARMACY ENTERED

And Sum of Money Amounting to About $5 Taken from Cash Register—Raffia Has Big Feet.

Officers today are looking for a man or boy of slender build, wearing extra large extension sole and pointed shoes and nursing a bad cut on one of his hands. This individual is wanted for burglary and attempted burglary in two quarters of the city last evening.

About nine o'clock last evening A. J. Harwood, superintendent of the Lewis Knitting Co. plant, heard a peculiar sound which seemed to come from riven and splintering timber somewhere in the immediate vicinity.

The noise was of short duration and was not repeated. About a half hour later Mr. Harwood made the rounds of the house preparatory to retiring and found that the pantry window on the east side had been forced open with a small chisel, the lock being broken but the pane of glass remaining intact. Mr. Harwood got word to the police station and a careful watch was kept in that locality for several hours, but the burglar did not return to take advantage of the opening he had forced. Neighbors claim to have seen a mysterious figure emerge from the shadows and take to the middle of the road and the tracks in the mud thereabouts indicated that Mr. Burglar was equipped with generously large pedal extremities.

When Dr. J. F. Pember reached his office in the rear of King's pharmacy on West Milwaukee street about 6:30 this morning he found that the back door was open. This unusual state of affairs at once prompted an investigation and he soon discovered that the lower portion of the screen which had been anchored with inside hooks in front of the window opening onto Franklin street, had been cut and unfastened and the window smashed. The upper hooks still held and it had been a tight squeeze for the intruder, as the screen had only a few inches give at the bottom. Subsequent examination of the premises revealed the fact that about five dollars in money had been taken from the cash register. An effort had been made to work the combination of the safe but the burglar was evidently not a cracksmen and early gave up the attempt. Neither the cigars nor any of the other goods had been molested. Around the window, silk some spots of blood were visible, indicating that the thief met with a mishap in cutting through or unhooking the lower part of the screen.

PORTER ARRESTED ON AN OLD CHARGE

Henry Prince Blew Into Janesville and Was Picked up by Police at Midnight.

Henry Prince, an erstwhile resident of Janesville and a former porter in a local barber shop, blew into the city recently and has been greeting old friends. Though he displays a set of gold filled teeth and dresses up to snuff he doesn't look good to the police. At about midnight he was picked up and jailed and this morning brought into municipal court to answer the charge of gambling. He pleaded not guilty and his case was set for two o'clock Friday afternoon. The offense with which he is charged dates back some time and is recited in the warrant as a dice game, commonly known as craps.

It was unanimously decided to repeat the program once or twice a month at the various homes during the remainder of the season.

MEN MISSING FROM LENA NUMBER 118

ROLL CALL INDICATES EXTENT OF FRENCH DISASTER.

DEATH LIST MAY BE 120

Mangled Bodies of Victims Cannot Be Identified—Many Injured May Die—Germany Expresses Sympathy.

Toulon, March 14.—The efforts to recover the bodies of those killed by the explosion on board the French battleship Iena here Tuesday have not yet resulted in definitely fixing the number of casualties. After the last roll call Wednesday night there were still unaccounted for eight officers and 110 men. Unfortunately there is little doubt that all these missing men perished. The roll call was applied only to the crew of the Iena, but as it is believed that some 12 or 15 arsenal hands were engaged on board the battleship at the time of the explosion, it is feared that the total number of dead will reach 120. In this belief the naval hospital here was instructed to prepare mortuary space for that number.

Minister of Marine Thomson made a second visit to the Iena late in the afternoon after the dry dock had been emptied of water, and made a careful examination of every part of the battleship that was accessible.

Pitiful Scene at Hospital. All day long weeping mothers, wives and other relatives of the missing men thronged the approaches to the hospital, hoping that their loved ones were still alive and eagerly scanning the stretchers that were brought in.

Fifty bodies were recovered during the day, but only 12 of them could be recognized. The remainder were formless masses of charred flesh.

Two of the wounded died in the hospital Wednesday evening, and there are five others who are not expected to live.

Ghastly Sights on Vessel

Correspondent boarded the Iena while the search for the bodies was going on. The fighting tops of the vessel were bent over, there was an enormous breach amidships and on the portside was a hole about 18 feet long and 12 feet high. Amidst the shattered steel plates, twisted rails and displaced stanchions the correspondent saw a heap of burned flesh, arms and twisted limbs. All that remained of 30 bodies which were taken from the after turret and which were being shown up in sheets and canvas, preparatory to being transported to the mortuary ashore. On one dismembered trunk was a watch which was still going. It was absolutely impossible to identify any of the bodies represented in the ghastly heap.

At the hospitals the correspondent was informed that many of the wounded men were likely to succumb to their injuries.

Sympathy from Germany.

Berlin, March 14.—The German government Wednesday caused the publication of a semi-official note in the North German Gazette expressing in the name of the German people and the German army and navy, the most sincere sympathy with the president, government, navy and people of France over the Iena disaster.

"Second Helen Keller" Is Dead.

Jacksonville, Ill., March 14.—Emma Kubick, a student at the Illinois state school for the blind, died of pneumonia Wednesday night. She was known as a second Helen Keller. She had appeared before many meetings of educational associations. She had been deaf, dumb and blind since birth.

Two Trainmen Killed.

Waterloo, Ia., March 14.—Engineer Kellogg and his fireman were killed Wednesday night in a wreck on the Chicago Great Western railroad at Dubuque. A car on a westbound train jumped the track while passing an eastbound train.

COMFORTING WORDS

Many a Janesville Household
Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Janesville readers.

Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, of 58 Terrace St., Janesville, Wis., says: "I have been troubled with a very weak back and continuous pain with a heavy bearing-down pain in the loins. I did not understand my trouble at first and used a lot of remedies that did not help me, but since I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the People's Drug Co., I have been rid of my old complaint, and it gives me pleasure to recommend the remedy that cured me."

SEE PEACE AT LOUISVILLE

BUSINESS MEN THINK STRIKE WILL BE ENDED THURSDAY.

Conferences Are Held with Both Sides—Two Serious Clashes with the Police.

Louisville, Ky., March 14.—Peace hovers near in the strike of the union employees of the Louisville Railway company. As the result of strong pressure brought to bear by the business interests of the city, especially the directors of the Greater Louisville exposition and the Commercial club, a conference was held Wednesday afternoon, attended by representatives of these bodies and the directors of the railway company and a committee representing the strikers.

At first it was thought that an agreement could be reached at once to submit the issues to arbitration and have the men resume work pending the final settlement. The proceedings were kept secret, but it was learned on good authority when the conference adjourned to meet again at 11 o'clock Thursday morning that the commercial bodies confidently expect the strike to be in process of arbitration, and car service fully resumed by Thursday night.

Two outbreaks of rather formidable proportions occurred in the business section of the city early in the afternoon. The first was at Fourth and Jefferson streets, the busiest corner in the city, and was caused by a cab driver blocking a car with his cab and then attempting to tear off the heavy wire screen with which all cars were provided for the protection of motormen. The cab driver was promptly arrested and three policemen started to walk him to the Central police station at the city hall a block away. Over a thousand people surged round and made attempts to rescue the prisoner. Heavy reinforcements of police prevented this, but the crowd was not dispersed until a score or more of arrests were made.

The second outbreak occurred at Seventh and Main streets where a carload of strike-breakers, arriving from St. Louis on the Southern railroad, was being transferred to a sub-urban express car. The strike-breakers were protected by police during the transfer, but the minute they were aboard the express car a volley of missiles crashed into it, several of those inside being slightly hurt. Here also a large number of arrests were made.

DEATH AND DAMAGE WROUGHT BY FLOOD

TOWBOAT DASHED AGAINST PIER
AND TWO MEN DROWN.

TRAIN FALLS INTO RIVER

Three of Its Crew Perish—Many Towns Under Water—Severe
Storms in Ohio and Indiana.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 14.—Swept with terrific force by the swollen current against a pier Wednesday night, the towboat Cruiser, owned by the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke company, was wrecked and sunk, sending two of her crew to death. The others were rescued, exhausted and almost frozen, a mile below the scene of the accident after they had been in the water an hour. Three of the crew, clinging to the bow of the submerged boat, were saved after a hard fight with the heavy ice which fills the stream.

The Cruiser, with a crew of 13 men, in command of Capt. H. Sweeney, left here with a tow of 12 barges of coal in a dense fog early Wednesday. Just after the crew had eaten supper the Cruiser started for lock No. 3 at Glen Osborn, 20 miles west of here. Before the lock could be reached, however, the boat was caught by the swift running current and dashed against the pier.

Train Goes Into River. The railroad bridge over Deer creek, near Harnsville, Pa., weakened by the flood, gave way under a freight train early Wednesday morning and the train fell into the river, three of its crew being drowned.

So rapidly had Deer creek risen during the night that it had attained a height of 16 feet instead of the normal from four to six feet. So great, too, was the force of the current that one of the five freight cars, heavily loaded, was carried down the creek a distance of over a quarter of a mile before its progress was stayed. The fireman, engineer and brakeman had not the slightest possible opportunity of escaping but were immediately dragged into the roaring current and drowned.

Many Streams Out of Banks.

Dispatches from all sections of western Pennsylvania report heavy rains Tuesday night and rapidly rising waters. At many places the downpour resembled a cloud-burst and the streams are already beyond their banks. Much territory is submerged and fears are entertained of dangerous floods.

In the Connellsville region the streams are said to be rising at an alarming rate. Dunbar is inundated and several buildings have been washed from their foundations. Numerous bridges are threatened. In Allegheny county, Chartiers creek, Robinson run, Pine creek, Deer creek, Turtle creek and Girty run are raging torrents. The towns of Oakdale, Ingram, Carnegie, Wilmerding, Sharpsburg and Turtle Creek borough are already partly under water. At the latter place the rise came so quickly that many persons were rescued from their houses in skiffs.

Severe Storm at Marietta.

Marietta, O., March 14.—Marietta was visited Wednesday by one of the worst electric storms in years. Over two inches of rain fell and the surrounding country suffered greatly. All small streams are overflowing their banks and the damage will be heavy. The damage to the railroads is great and all trains were late. The Marietta division of the Pennsylvania did not get a train through Wednesday, the Baltimore & Ohio transferred passengers and all mails were late. At Lower Salem the water so overflowed the streets that several persons had narrow escapes.

Great Miami on a Rampage.

Piqua, Ohio, March 14.—The Great Miami river is on a rampage and many people have been forced to leave their homes and seek shelter elsewhere. Rossville, the colored section of the town, and East Piqua are inundated. Much damage is reported. The Miami and Erie canal and the river are almost one body of water, the canal bank giving way in several places. The town was only saved from danger from the large waterworks reservoir and other lakes above the city by the level of water being extraordinarily low before the heavy rains set in. The downpour continues without signs of abating and much fear is expressed for the safety of the citizens. The danger line has already been passed and it is feared that the levees will not hold.

Cloudburst in Indiana.

Terre Haute, Ind., March 14.—A cloudburst that dropped 15 inches of rain within less than an hour's time broke over Greene county Tuesday night and did thousands of dollars damage. Reports from Linton state that six families in the Goose Pond bottoms had to flee for their lives. The Indianapolis Southern and Southern Indiana railroads sustained heavy damage by the washing out of embankments. The flood damage is estimated at $100,000.

MRS. THAW'S WORD AGAINST HUMMEL'S

JEROME SEEKS TO INTRODUCE
TESTIMONY OF AFFIDAVIT.

IT DISCREDITS HER STORY

Lawyer Would Tell That She Swore
Thaw Beat Her in Paris—Short Session of the Trial.

New York, March 14.—After a forenoon session occupied almost entirely by District Attorney Jerome in a bitter denunciation of the defendant and his wife, the trial of Harry K. Thaw for the murder of Stanford White was adjourned shortly after 12 o'clock Wednesday until Thursday morning. The prosecuting attorney found his opportunity to attack Thaw and Evelyn Nesbit in arguing on the question of the admissibility of the testimony which Abraham Hummel, the lawyer who is under indictment for subornation of perjury in the Dodge-Morse divorce case, has to offer.

It was to enable Delphin M. Delmas, leading counsel for the defense, to consult authorities and frame a reply to Mr. Jerome, and also to allow the latter an opportunity of completing the hypothetical question which he is to put to his experts, that the early adjournment was ordered. Mr. Jerome said he hoped to close the rebuttal for the people Thursday evening.

What Hummel Will Testify.

During his argument the district attorney took on, for the first time since the case began, a sustained oratorical tone. He asserted that Hummel would swear Evelyn Nesbit told him three days after her return from Europe in 1903 that Thaw had beaten her cruelly because she would not sign papers he had prepared falsely accusing Stanford White of having drugged and betrayed her. Mr. Jerome contended that she had told much more, that Thaw seemed bent upon putting Stanford White in the penitentiary, that the statement that White had betrayed her was not true, that Stanford White had never harmed her, and that Thaw was consumed with rage when she refused to sign and swear to the papers containing "lies against Stanford White."

"These things were put in the form of an affidavit," declared Mr. Jerome, "and that affidavit was subscribed to by Evelyn Nesbit when she knew what she was doing and what the paper contained."

Said Thaw Beat Her.

"We want to show that the girl who told this remarkable story here on the witness stand swore at another time, under the solemnity of an oath, that she had endured the lashings and beatings of this defendant, rather than swear to his false statements that Stanford White had drugged and ruined her."

Mr. Jerome argued that the material point of the case is whether or not Evelyn Nesbit told Thaw the story of her alleged ruin by Stanford White. Without that story in evidence, he declared, the reason for the defendant's alleged insanity disappears. The prosecutor plainly admitted the importance of young Mrs. Thaw's testimony, and he said he wished by Hummel's testimony to show her own repudiation of the charges which on the witness stand she renewed against White.

"Thus," he concluded "the jury may infer from her own statements after her return from Europe in 1903 whether or not she had within two months of that time told this defendant the things she said she did."

UNION PACIFIC RESENTFUL.

Stops Work on Athol Hill Cut-Off Because of Legislation.

Omaha, March 14.—The Union Pacific railroad Wednesday morning announced that work on the Athol Hill cut-off near Cheyenne, Wyo., would be discontinued at once, because of adverse legislation towards that road ending in a cut of rates.

The Athol Hill is between Denver and Cheyenne and is the heaviest grade on the system. It was designed to construct 15 miles of new road, cutting off the hill and grade. Eight hundred men will be thrown out of work by the stoppage. Eighty per cent of grading has been finished.

CAPTIVE IS IDENTIFIED.

Supposed Bank Robber Is Blinded and Maimed.

Wellington, Kan., March 14.—The man captured Tuesday night at Caldwell, suspected of having taken part in the robbery of the Hunnewell bank on Monday night, and placed in jail here, was identified Wednesday as Charles Allen, a gambler, recently from Wichita. Allen refuses to talk. He is totally blind, his face is raw and the ends of his fingers are missing. It is believed he was injured in the explosion at the bank.

WITH FAT MAN'S QUARTER.

Two Damsels Left the Car, and He Uttered No Protest.

A corpulent man with a red face went to Coney island one day and sat in the cross seat of an open car in front of two stout German women. In searching for a nickel to pay his fare, he dropped a quarter, which rolled almost under the dress of one of the women.

He realized that he might make a spectacle of himself if he attempted to pick up the quarter; so he decided to wait until she and her friend got out. Meanwhile he took an occasional glance at the coin.

The women found themselves at their station unexpectedly, and in their hurry to get out, one of them knocked her handkerchief, which was weighted with something, on the back of the fat man's seat. A corner of the handkerchief dropped and let out a shower of jingling silver.

The owner knelt and began collecting the coins, while her friend urged her to hurry. The man gave a sigh of relief when he saw that the woman had not noticed his quarter. Just then, however, the other woman observed it.

"Katrina," she said, "you have not all dot change got. Look! Here is a quarter."

Katrina, with an effort, stooped and picked it up, and she and her friend rushed from the car. The fat man, who saw the fullness of protest under the peculiar circumstances, sighed regretfully and sadly watched them go.—N. Y. Sun.

EACH HAD LARGE ROLL.

Bankrupt, All, But They Were Supplied with the "Needful."

Peter Bennett for 25 years has been a Wall street reporter and a wag. He knows everybody, and is walking reference book of the financial district.

One afternoon he was in a New street cafe sitting at a table with three stock brokers who had suspended.

"Have a drink?" said one, and when it came the broker extracted a huge roll of yellow notes and paid the reckoning.

"Have another?" invited broker No. 2. It arrived, and he reached down and produced a fat, healthy looking roll of yellowbacks and paid.

"Have another?" asked broker No. 3, and he imitated his suspended friends by digging down and producing a bulging wad of yellow paper money.

"Have one on me," requested Bennett, and then he produced an anemic roll of soiled ones. "I can't understand it," said Peter, wonderingly. "Here am I the only solvent man in the crowd, and I am broke, while you three, bankrupts each have a roll as thick as my leg. I would like to know how you do it?"—Sunday Magazine.

Homely, and She Knew It.

"Beauty may be only skin deep," said the admirer of it, "but the reverse is distressing to me. The other evening at a club dinner I was put next to a woman who seemed to me to be about the homeliest woman I had ever seen. She was so homely that I had made up my mind to change seats surreptitiously with some friend, when she began to talk to me about her life in Missouri and her husband."

"Do you know," she said naively, "he waited for me five years. Finally I said to him: 'Well, if there's nothing else for it, I suppose I must marry you, but I don't see how in the world you can fancy me. I am so terribly homely.' It was strange, but after that I lost sight of her homeliness entirely. Before the evening was over I had got to thinking her actually pretty."

Dutch for Oil King.

W. W. Scott, a Passaic (N. J.) lawyer, is negotiating with persons, of Holland descent, of that city, in an attempt to induce 12 to go to Cleveland, O., and take up their homes at Forest Hill, the estate of John D. Rockefeller.

A. H. Howatt, general superintendent of the Rockefeller estate, was in Passaic recently and made arrangements with Mr. Scott to secure the families. Much difficulty is encountered in securing help, he said, and after years of experiment, Mr. Rockefeller has come to the conclusion that the Jersey Dutch are superior to all others and has decided to employ them exclusively on his Ohio estate.

NEXT OLYMPIC GAMES.

Congress to Be Asked For a $100,000 Appropriation.

That our next athletic invasion of foreign shores will be thoroughly representative of the flower of America's champions is now assured practically by a statement made recently by President James E. Sullivan of the Amateur Athletic union.

President Roosevelt has again been appointed honorary president of the American committee of the Olympic games at Athens, the same position he held on our committee for world's championships at Athens last year, and it is through the president of the United States' well known interest in athletics that Mr. Sullivan hopes to get an appropriation through congress for no less than $100,000 in order that this country may be raked as with a fine tooth comb, so that not a single athlete of championship caliber in any line may be denied the chance of representing the United States in the next world's championships.

President Sullivan, who is strongly urging the appropriation, is sanguine over the prospects of the bill and thinks it is absolutely necessary to enable the United States to be worthily represented in England. In discussing the project he pointed out that money was appropriated for the American exhibit at the Paris world's fair in 1900 and that every exposition held in this country has received material financial aid from congress, and as this is a national affair the same consideration should be shown.

According to an interview, Mr. Sullivan, briefly sums up the situation as follows:

"The American representatives, who will compete at London in the Olympic games next year will come from every section of the country. It is a question of national pride and not individual honor. Of course we can raise a sufficient fund to send a team abroad, but that is not the question. Other countries make grants to athletes who they represent their countries, and America should not be behind in this respect. We intend to introduce a bill in congress for the appropriation of $100,000 to cover all expenses. Money is appropriated for similar purposes, where it is considered to be of interest to the country at large, and this event should be placed in the same category. "Athletic clubs from every section of the United States will send representatives to strive for national honor and glory and should receive some official recognition. It was suggested that a battleship be placed at the disposal never. "Any one who never yet interfered with duty, nay, it always strengthens to the performance of duty, gives courage, and clears the judgment. Hope is the most rational thing in the universe."—George MacDonald.

HIGH JUMPING AT SEA.

A Whale that Jumped Over a Boat—Tunas That Leap 20 Feet.

"The most stupendous of all leapers of the sea," says a writer in Outing, "is the whale. I have seen a monster weighing hundreds of tons, possibly 80 feet in length, rise slowly and deliberately out of the water until it appeared to be dancing on the surface, entirely clear of it, then sink slowly back."

"Such a leap is on record in the annals of the British navy. A large whale cleared a boat, going completely over it, an estimated leap of 20 feet in air—how many in a lateral direction was not known."

"Exactly how high a tuna can leap it is difficult to say. I have seen the water beaten into foam by them four miles distant, and have a photograph showing a fish—a black streak at least a mile distant high in air—a jump of certainly 10 or 15 feet; and it is my opinion, based on what I have seen, that it is possible for a lusty tuna at full speed to project itself 20 feet into the air and 30 or 40 feet in a horizontal direction."

"I judge the latter possibly from the leap of a big tuna which cleared the kelp and landed high on the rocks at Santa Catalina. I have often stood in the center of a school of leaping tunas and watched them, but the situation is not one suggestive of repose or peace of mind."

NEWSBOYS HAD REAL TREAT.

And Possibly Young Woman Enjoyed Experience, Too.

A young woman, blond and pretty, was getting fully as much fun out of a very thoughtful act as were the eight very dirty little newsboys who were treating to maple sundaes in a Twenty-third street drug store the other day. They were one and all having the time of their lives, says the New York Sun.

It was a real party and the eyes of the octet simply bulged in excitement. It was lots better than getting rid of their last paper.

"Gee, kids! ain't this bully?" exclaimed one, but his companions had their noses so close to the English walnuts plentifully sprinkled over the top of the drink that they couldn't talk intelligently.

The girl stayed by until the last spoonful was regrettably scooped out and the boys, thanking her in somewhat bashful fashion, little in accord with their natural brashness, passed over the door. Then with a happy sigh she too left.

Someone watching the proceeding rather envied her the satisfaction for small boys of that sort do appreciate anything done for them which doesn't point a moral.

An Unseen Witness.

The criminal court at Salzburg, Germany, has been forced to hold a sitting in a convent, owing to the refusal of a nun to give evidence in public. A woodcutter in the service of the convent on the Nonnberg was on his trial for stealing, and the evidence of Sister Celestine, one of the nuns, was material. She, however, refused to attend the court on the ground of her vow, which forbade her to allow herself to be seen by men. An appeal to the archbishop of Salzburg elicited the reply that only the pope himself could release the sister from her vows, so arrangements were made for her to be examined in the convent. The judge and the counsel were accommodated in the visitors' room, while Sister Celestine, supported by the abbess, took her place behind a curtain so that she would be heard but not seen. The sister then underwent an examination and cross-examination, and on her evidence the man was condemned to two months' imprisonment. The anti-clerical papers protested against evidence given in this way being admissible.

What He Meant.

Praise from a husband's lips is always pleasant to the wife, but the praise may be too discriminating to suit her.

"Under the very colloquially apt title of 'The Mean Thing,' this amusing little tale is to be found in Youth's Companion: 'I thought it was nice of you to tell that carpenter, who seemed to think women knew nothing, that I could hammer nails like lightning,' said Mrs. Morse to her husband. 'But I'm afraid, dear, that he was an unprejudiced judge. I really don't think I'm such a very good hammerer.' 'Oh, he knew what I meant,' said Mr. Morse, cheerfully. 'You know, lightning never strikes twice in the same place, they say.'

Children's Companions.

Every mother has more or less of a problem on her hands in the matter of her children's companions, and it is sometimes a delicate affair to avoid Pharisaism, ill-feeling between neighbors, and the spirit of antagonism at home, in an effort to prevent undesirable intimacies. Little children are safest when at play directly under the mother's eye, but, as they develop, it is wise, I believe, to fortify them with right principles and then to trust them and show them that we do!

Her Chance to Abuse Him.

"Lady," said Plodding Pete, "are you one o' dese people dat hates tramps?" "I am," was the prompt and decisive answer. "Well, wouldn't you like to show your feelin's by temptin' me to overeat myself an' puttin' the curse of dyspepsia on me?"

The Marrying Habit.

"Yes, lady," said the convict, "my trouble wuz dat I attended too many weddin's." "Ah!" exclaimed the prison visitor, "I suppose that started you in the drink habit?" "No, lady; de trouble wuz dat I wuz de bridegroom at all o' them."

First Presidential Mansion.

The first presidential mansion stood on the corner of Franklin square and Cherry street, New York (1789). A portion of the East river bridge structure rests on the site and is marked by a tablet on the bridge abutment.

CASPAR WHITNEY, PRESIDENT AMERICAN OLYMPIC COMMITTEE.

of the athletes, but this has been eliminated from the programme. Battleships are not built to accommodate excursion parties, but for the necessity of possibly sterner use, and the proposition is not received with favor. I believe that the representatives at Washington will recognize the importance of this athletic meeting as a national institution to be worthily upheld, and the appropriation will follow."

The following are the men selected by Mr. Sullivan to head the committee in charge of the next American athletic invasion:

Honorary president, Theodore Roosevelt, Washington; president, Caspar Whitney, New York; secretary, James E. Sullivan, president of the Amateur Athletic union, 21 Warren street, New York city; treasurer, Julian W. Curtiss, Yale; honorary vice-president, George J. Gould.

GEERS HAS BEST RECORD.

Twenty-one Trotters Got Their Marks of 2:10 or Better Through Him.

Ed Geers, the dean of the trotting horse drivers, has guided twenty-one trotters to records of 2:10 or better. The speediest of these was The Abbott (2:03 3/4). Geers' record more than doubles that of any other driver. John Dickerson and Scott Hudson have each driven ten horses in 2:10 or better. Alta McDonald has eight to his credit, including Sweet Marie, 2:02, and Major Delmar, 1:59 3/4. Myron E. McHenry and Henry Tites follow with six each, and then come Billy Andrews, Charles De Ryder, Andy McDowell and George Saunders with five each. Budd Doble, who marked Nancy Hanks in 2:04 in 1892, and gave Dexter his record of 2:17 many years before, drove only four trotters to their best 2:10 records.

W. W. Bair, who drove Maud S. to her championship record of 2:08 3/4 in 1885, never had another fast one, but Ed Bither, who drove Jay-Eye-See in 2:10 in 1884, being the first man to ride that fast behind a trotter, later marked Kremlin in 2:07 3/4. Millard Saunders, who gave Lou Dillon her mark of 1:58 1/2, also marked Auzella.

Saved by Hope.

We are saved by hope. Never man hoped too much, or repented that he had hoped. The plague is that we don't hope in God half enough. H.C.

Oriental Rugs

All the way from Asia Minor, the land of the artistic weavers of the richest and the most beautiful of Oriental Rugs, has come some rare specimens of the great Armenian craft to us.

The races of Asia Minor are recognized the world over as foremost in the production of Rugs.

Their color schemes are superb. Their blendings are perfect. Their designs are beautiful beyond compare.

All the charm and mastery of the Orient seems embodied in these Rugs—their soft, low toned colors—here and there breaking into brilliancy by some touch of brightness, is very suggestive of the mystic eastern arts.

The collection exhibited at this store is representative of the best endeavors of the most skillful of the Tarsus Rug makers. There are a wide range of sizes—from those large enough to carpet a good size room to the small ones so fashionable for table covers.

As these came directly from the Orient, this wonderful collection offers rare opportunities to Rug buyers; it is entirely at your disposal—to view or to choose from. Your inspection is cordially invited.
